

Palazzi e villaggi fuorilegge

A grainy, black and white photograph of a modern building complex. The foreground is dark and indistinct. In the middle ground, there are several rectangular buildings of varying heights. One building on the left has a flat roof. Another building in the center has a more complex, stepped profile. To the right, there's a building with a flat roof and a small, square structure on top. In the background, a tall, thin antenna tower is visible against a light sky. The overall image quality is poor, with high contrast and significant noise.

A black and white photograph of a property for sale. A large sign in the foreground reads "VENDESI Tel. 778598". The property includes a large, dark building and a smaller structure to the left, surrounded by trees and a road in the foreground.
